

Net Effect™ One

Interface®

Net Effect™ Collection

First photographed from space in 1968, that image of Earth, the little blue planet, reframed our relationship to our world and to one another forever. Suddenly it was clear that the oceans we all share make us unique in the universe.

Discarded fishing nets have been part of the mix of our 100% recycled content type 6 nylon since 2011 when our partner, Aquafil, began incorporating them into the yarn they sell us. Last year, we saw an opportunity to expand the positive impacts of this design solution. Designed as a tribute, Net Effect honors the ocean not only in its aesthetic references but also in a unique and tangible way through a project called Net-Works.

Net-Works provides a source of income for small fishing villages in the Philippines, while cleaning up their beaches and waters of discarded fishing nets that threaten their livelihood and the very precious double barrier reef off their shore. The collected nets are sold to Aquafil, who, in turn, converts them into yarn for Interface carpet tile – a very bright (blue) idea for a greener future.

Net Effect One is a grouping of three textures in 50 cm squares that, when placed side by side, describes the precise moment when the sea foams into the shore creating organic imagery. Each pattern also has a life of its own as it floods the floor with movement and color. B601™ has a more pronounced texture with shimmering lighter ends on top of deeper tones. B603™ takes a deep dive into a more dense construction and B602™ is the transition between the two.

An elegant design solution for the floor and a socially responsible design solution for a fragile economy – that's a very positive Net Effect.
